

In the name of God, Most Gracious, Most Merciful Alphabets

The Alphabet

Alif,  $^{1}$ , at the beginning of a word represents a short vowel sound (a, i, or u), a long i, or an ay sound.

Alif madda, \( \), is used when a sustained 'a' sound occurs at the beginning of a word.

آب ہے آسف

The next character has two forms. The joined form,  $\rightarrow$ , is used when the character is followed by another character. The full form,  $\hookrightarrow$ , is used when that character appears by itself or at the end of a word. Remember that Arabic is read from right to left. Arabic characters should be written form right to left as well.

Most Arabic characters both joined and full forms. Here are some more characters with both forms.

Alif in the middle of a word represents a more sustained 'a' sound. Short vowels aren't represented by a letter when they appear inside a word. Alif is one of the few letters that joins with letters that precede it. It never joins with a letter that follows it.

قفص	رصاص	ص صبعب	صد
الم فرض	فيضيان	ض ضفدع	ضد،
ان بط	بطاطا	طاولة	ط
المحظ	نظيف	ظریف	ظ

E and E have four forms. One form is used when the letter starts a word, one when joined with both the preceding and following character, another when at the end of a word and joined to the preceding character, and finally a form used when it isn't joined with another character.

· ADIT ADDAS

, like  $\xi$  and  $\dot{\xi}$ , has four forms.

In middle of a word, wow can represent the long vowel u or the vowel combination ou, ow, or w and at the end of a word, the long vowel u and sometimes ow.

The joined form of ya,  $\mathcal{L}$ , is another example of a tooth. Ya is pronounced as the consonant y at the beginning of a sentence, long i, in the middle, and long i at the end.

Nouns

الأسماء

Arabic nouns are either masculine or feminine. Usually when referring to a male, a masculine noun is usually used and when referring to a female, a feminine noun is used. In most cases the feminine noun is formed by adding a special character, the ta marbuta , to the end of the masculine noun.

It's not just nouns referring to people that have gender. Inanimate objects (doors, houses, cars, etc.) is either masculine or feminine. Whether an inanimate noun is masculine or feminine is mostly arbitrary. A lot of inanimate nouns ends in ta marbuta. When this is the case you know it is feminine.

Unfortunately, not all feminine nouns end in ta marbuta. Whenever you learn a new word, and that word is a noun, it's best if you learn it's gender too. Here are some masculine nouns..

The Definite Article

The Definite Article

أداة التعريف

In English we have definite nouns which are usually preceded by 'the' (i.e. the student, the tables) as well as indefinite nouns (i.e. a student, tables). Arabic also has definite and indefinite nouns. The arabic definite article joins with the word that it precedes.

له the لکتاب the book

Nouns preceded by the definite article are definite as well as the names of cities, countries, regions, and people. Nouns without an article are usually indefinite.

a book كتاب

How to pronounce the definite article depends on the letter that comes after it. In the case of the word below, it is pronounced as it is written- 'al'.

القمر the moon

قمر moon

The letters that follow this pattern are know as moon letters( الحروف القمرية).

the sun المنتمس sun

Notice the symbol that resembles a slanted w that is appears immediately after the first letter. This is a called a shadda. Whenever two identical consonants appear right next to each other, only one consonant is written, and the shadda is written after it, indicating that it is doubled. Remember that short vowels that come within a sentence are never written.

The letters that follow this pattern are know as sun letters ( الحروف الشمسية).

Of the 28 consonants in the Arabic alphabet, one half are sunletters and one half are moon-letters. The remaining consonants are all moon letters.

On the previous page we saw فَمُ and being used as a pronoun. Whenever a definite article appears between it and a noun, هذه and هذه act as adjectives as opposed to pronouns.

هذا الصديق. This friend. هذا الصديق. This (female) colleague.

If that is the case, is there anyway to say something like "this is the friend"? Yes there is. You have to place , known as a pronoun of separation, between the subject and noun?

هذه هي الفتاة. This - is the girl.

Adjectives

الصفات

Adjectives have both masculine and feminine forms. The singular feminine adjective is just like the masculine adjective but with the ta marbuta to the end.

rich	غنية	غني
poor	فقيرة	فقير
good	جيدة	dis
bad	سيئة	سيئ

*this same adjective is used both both for men and women.

Arabic adjectives always follow the noun they modify.

Presented by: Rana Jabir Abbas

When an adjective modifies a definite noun, the definite article is placed in front of the adjective.

Look at the following phrases and their translations:

a true Muslim	مُسْلِمٌ صَادقٌ	a pious person	رَجُلٌ صَالِحٌ
a small book	كِتَابُّ صَغِيرٌ	a trustworthy uncle	خَالٌ اَمِينٌ
a big mosque	مَسْجِدٌ كَبِيرٌ	a beautiful house	بَيْتٌ جَمِيلٌ

These phrases are said to be composed of صفّ (adjective) and مَوْصُوْف (the noun of the adjective). To translate these into Arabic, just reverse the order of the words (Muslim مُسُلِّم and then true (عُسُلِّم) and put tanveen (") on each of them. The tanveen could be " or depending upon the context in which this phrase is used.

سِفَة (subject and predicate) except that in case of مُبْتَدَا – خَبَرْ

: و مَوصُوْف

1: The order of the words is reversed; and

2: If the first word is attached with  $\sqrt[3]{}$ , then the second will also have  $\sqrt[3]{}$  attached to it. For e.g., using the same phrases given above, we will have:

the true Muslim	المُسْلِمُ الْصَّادِقُ	the pious person	اَلْرَّجُلُ الْصَّالِحُ
the small book	ٱلْكِتَابُ الْصَّغِيرُ	the trustworthy uncle	ٱلْخَالُ الْآمِينُ
the big mosque	ٱلْمَسْجِدُ الْكَبِيرُ	the beautiful house	ٱلْبَيْتُ الْجَمِيلُ

And remember, as in case of  $\dot{\partial}$  (subject and predicate), if the first word is feminine, the second should also be feminine. Further, if the first word is dual or plural, the second should also be dual or plural in number, i.e, the two words should agree in gender and number with respect to each other. For example:

the true Muslim man the true Muslim men	الْمُسْلِمُ الْصَّادِقُ اَلْمُسْلِمُوْنَ الْصَّادِقُوْنَ	the true Muslim woman the true Muslim women	اَلْمُسْلِمَةُ الْصَّادِقَةُ اَلْمُسْلِمَاتُ الْصَّادِقَاتُ

Plural

In Arabic, there are two types of noun and adjective plural forms: sound (regular) plurals, and broken (irregular) plurals. Masculine sound plural nouns end in ¿ and feminine sound plural nouns end in .

teachers معلمات معلمون مبتدءات beginners مبتدؤون مبتدءات muslims مسلمات thinkers مفكّرون مفكّرات translators مترجمون مترجمات

Usually feminine inanimate nouns that end in ta marbuta take the feminine sound plural.

words کلمات word

There are some important exceptions to this rule though.

There are also some masculine nouns, usually borrowed words, that take the feminine sound plural.

The masculine sound plural is never used with inanimate nouns.

Irregular Plurals

Arabic has lots of irregular plurals- known as broken plurals. The plural form is expressed by changing the stem of the singular form.

For people nouns that have both masculine and feminine forms, often the feminine plural is regular and the masculine plural irregular.

Following are the plural subject pronouns.

In Arabic, possession is indicated by appending a suffix to a noun. This suffix reflects the gender and plurality of the possessor or possessors.

The possessive pronoun (its) does not exist in Arabic, it is referred to as (his) or (her) depending whether the noun is masculine or feminine. The their forms are never used with inanimates.

Sometimes the suffix changes when the possessor is a dual noun. These dual forms though are mostly avoided in Arabic. Whenever a possessive suffix is added the noun becomes definite.

مُضَاف و مُضَاف إِلَيْه The Possessive Case or Genitive

Look at the following phrases and their translations:

the creation of Allah	خَلْقُ الله	the house of Allah	بَيْتُ الله
the nation of Hud	قَوْمُ هُودَ	the call of the prophet	دَعْوَةُ الرَّسُوْل
the command of the Qur'an	حُكْمُ الْقُرَآنِ	the creation of Allah	خَلْقُ اللهِ

Notes:

- To convey the meanings of "of," we place Dhammah or pesh ( ) on the first word and double kasra ( ) on the second word.
- 2. As usual, if the second word has الله attached with it, then instead of double kasra ( ), we will have single kasra ( ) on the second word.
- is called مضاف is called خُلُقُ in the sentence مضاف is called مضاف إليه is called مضاف إليه , which should always be a proper noun.
- 4. In Arabic the construction of مضاف إليه and مضاف إليه automatically takes care of the "'s " or "of" (Allah's creation OR the creation of Allah) as shown in the above examples.
- 5. The construction of مضاف إليه and مضاف إليه automatically implies specific person or thing. Therefore, the is always added in English translation of this phrase.

Subject فَاعِل , Verb فَعُل , and Object

In general, in an Arabic sentence, the verb comes first, followed by the subject and the object. A Double Dhammah or tanveen ( - ) is placed on the subject and double fathah ( - ) is placed on the object. Look at the following examples:

In the first sentence, read is the verb, Hameed is the subject, and the Our'an is the object. In the second one, wrote is the verb, Iqbal is the subject, and a book is the object.

read	قَرَأ	made	جَعَلَ	created	خَلَقَ
wrote	كَتَبَ	separated	فَرَقَ	collected	جَمَع
cheated	خَدَعَ	water	مَاءُ	wealth, means	مَالُ
Allah made Muhammad (pbuh) a messenger. جَعَلَ اللهُ مُحَمَّدًا رَّسُولًا					جَعَ
Allah cre	eated the p	eopie.		خَلَقَ اللَّهُ النَّاس
Allah rev	vealed the	1	اَنْزَلَ اللهُ كِتَابًا
The Sata	n cheacter	the	ئسكان	عَ الشَّيْطَانُ الْإِنْ	خحَك
	ed the sea.			فَرَقْنَا الْبَحْرَ

Note: When a word is attached with  $\int_{-\infty}^{\infty} then one of two fathah (- ), kasrah (- ) or dhammah ($ - ') in a tanveen ( - - or - ') are dropped. For example, as shown in the above sentences, شَيْطَانُ is attached with اَلشَّيْطَانُ has one dhammah since طَـلـرقُ . Similarly, رَسُولًا has double fathah, whereas الْبَحْرَ has only one fathah.

مَعْرُوف و مَجْهُول Active and Passive Voices

You already know that فَعَلُ means (he) did. To make passive voice of this, you have to write it as فُعِلُ which means (it) is done. Further examples are given below.

mg. pl. you created	خَلَقْتُمْ	mg. pl. you were created	خُلِقْتُمْ
mg. he killed	قَتَلَ	mg. he was killed	قُٰتِلَ
Mg. pl. they demanded	طَلَبُوا	mg. pl. they were demanded	طُلِبُوا ا
mg. he sent	بَعَثَ	mg. he was sent	بُعِثَ
I sent	بَعَثْتُ	I was sent	بُعِثْتُ
we provided	رَزَقْنَا	we were provided	رُزِقْنَا
mg. pl. they provided	رزقوا	mg. pl. they were provided	رُزِقُوا

Present Tense and Future Tense

And they will not grieve.

They hear the words of Allah.

I do not worhsip what you worship.

We do not worship except Allah.

They believe in Allah and His messenger.

وَلَا هُمْ يَحْزَنُونَ يَسْمَعُونَ كَلَامَ اللهِ لَا اَعْبُدُ مَا تَعْبُدُونَ لَا نَعْبُدُ الَّا اللهَ يُؤْمِنُونَ بَاللهِ وَ رَسُولِهِ يُؤْمِنُونَ بَاللهِ وَ رَسُولِهِ

مَعْرُوف و مَجْهُول Active and Passive Voices

As you have seen earlier, فعل is made passive by writing فعل for verbs in past tense. However, in case of present tense, يَفْعَلُ is made passive by writing it as يُفْعَلُ , i.e., first letter will have dhammah / pesh ( - ) and the third letter will have fathah ( - ). The remaining letters will have

he drinks

they (all, mg) help

you (mg) ask

he is made / given to drink يُشْرَبُ they (all, mg) are helped يُنْصَرُونَ you (mg) are asked
